GENERAL ASSEMBLY OPENS IN HARMONY

Both House and Senate Start Out in Business-like Way—Republicans Confident Governor Peabody Will Be Seated.

Special to the Gazette.

DENVER, Jan. 4.—Harmony characterized the opening of the fifteenth general assembly today. Not once during the two sessions of the legislature was there a semblance of trouble in the Republican ranks although many thought trouble or rather saw trouble because of a mistake of the credentials committee in the senate. It was this that caused the slight flurry and gave the Democrats an idea that they had seen a rift in the clouds that forecast a break in the Republican ranks. It was purely an optical illusion on the part of the Democrats.

In the house the Republican caucus program went through without a break and peace dwelt within the ranks of the party, regardless of differences of opinion relative to important state questions. Dickson was greeted with applause when he ascended the steps to speak, and also when he was nominated for temporary speaker. Not a Republican voted against him despite the assertion of the Pattersonian press that dissatisfaction was in the Republican ranks and that a break was imminent.

Many Ladies Present.

There was a large crowd in the galleries for the opening of each branch, the number of ladies present being unusually large. There was no semblance of trouble. It is true that Secretary of State Cowie, who is custodian of the state house, locked the basement doors early in the morning but it is also true that he had guards stationed at the various entrances and distributed through the building. This was purely precautionary. It was to prevent any gang of rowdies swarming into the building to cause needless disorder.

The fact is that no legislature in Colorado ever opened so quietly and so auspiciously. It augurs well for the Republicans and their way of conducting business, and is in strong contrast to the disgraceful scenes that marked the opening of the legislature two years ago when the Democrats were in control.

Regarding the little flurry in the senate, the committee on credentials plainly violated the instructions and advice of Attorney General Miller. He told them that it was not within the province of the committee to pass on the right of holdover senators to their seats with particular reference to Healy and Born.

Credentials Committee Reports.

However, the committee reported favoring the roll call of members as certified by Mr. Cowie, secretary of state, except Healy and Born. In other words the committee sought to unseat the Leadville and Alamosa senators.

Lieutenant Governor Haggott properly ruled that a motion to adopt the report was out of order thus effectually stopping any such action. There was something of a debate on the question. The committtee realized its powers and awkwardly awaited the action of the senate. Senator Owen of Cripple Creek and Senator Cornforth of Colorado Springs and one or two others formed a plan whereby the committee report was amended, which left Healy and Born in their seats.

Hold-Overs on Roll Call.

It was the opinion of the attorney general that hold-over senators should go on the roll call together with the newly elected senators. This too was the contention of the lieutenant governor. This does not mean any advantage whatever to the Democrats. Rather is means that in the senate, Republicans had not caucused on the measure and there was a hurried organization. As the case now is, it is legal and just. It means that a special committee on elections and privileges will be appointed by the senate to handle that seating question. As will be recalled Healy and Born were seated by the Democrats two years ago so that they could hold a majority in joint session and thereby elect Teller to the United States senate. McDonald, lieutenant governor-elect, and Dick of Leadville will be given their rightful seats and Healy and Born will be unseated, probably tomorrow.

Cornforth Changes Goebel Rules.

The senate committee on rules headed by Senator Cornforth, recommended some changes in the "Goebel" rules of the Democrats two years ago. One change was that a majority, instead of three-fifths, shall be necessary to pass any measure. This means that the Republicans only need one more vote than the Democrats to pass any measure. This, however, does not apply to contests as the constitution provides for that. Another rule wiped out was that when the presiding officer refused to put a question the secretary was empowered to do so. This was a rule of the Democrats two years ago to head off Lieutenant Governor Haggott and his rulings and his refusal to put questions bearing on contests.

The senate adjourned at 4 o'clock this afternoon in respect to the late Senator Buckley and this left nothing for the house to do and it adjourned likewise. Tomorrow it is probable that there will be a joint session to canvass the vote for state officers and then the gubernatorial question will come up. While some newspapers would have us believe that there was a break in the Republican ranks there is none. The Republicans are simply demanding that in the governorship question that what is right and just be done regardless of who is elected or seated as governor.

Governorship Matter.

It seems probable tonight that the Denver canvassing board will submit its report from this city, a majority favoring Adams, and a minority favoring Peabody. This will call for a vote on the seating of Peabody or his rejection.

It will show the strength of the party. In all probability the minority report will be adopted. Then it will [illegible] tion of the vote from Denver for governor and upon their report depends the governorship. If it is believed that sufficient frauds will be shown to entitle Governor Peabody to his seat. If this is shown then a resolution will be passed seating him. It is possible that no resolution will be necessary and that simply the adoption or rejection of the minority report is all that is necessary.

Peabody Will Be Seated.

It may be stated that Peabody will be seated. That is certain proof will be shown that he is entitled to his seat and it will be given him.

Alva Adams has then this move which he will make: he will appear before Supreme Court Justice Steele, the Democratic member of the supreme court, Tuesday morning and be sworn in as governor. Then he will take his contest up to the United States supreme court and await its decision, while Colorado will have two governors; yet Mr. Peabody only will be recognized. He will be the real governor of Colorado, only his acts will be legal and only he will be recognized by the legislature.

It is probable that Governor Peabody will send in his message to the legislature Friday, and Saturday it is expected that he will send in the two appointments to the supreme court. These appointments will be confirmed by the senate and then the governor will have completed the official legislative acts of his present administration.

Of course nobody knows what a legislator has hidden in his sleeve but it is not believed that there will be anything of note in either branch other than here outlined until after Tuesday next.

Down With the Trouble Breeders.

There are trouble breeders galore in Colorado. There are firebrands as dangerous to politics as the incendiary is to the city, but those can be suppressed; and will be. The political firebrands are seeking to stir the people and to make trouble and are declaring that the Republicans are robbers. These will be given their quietus in a perfectly just and legal manner and then the people of the state can settle down and thank their lucky stars that both branches of the legislature are in the hands of the Republicans and so overwhelmingly that there is no danger of the political incendiaries getting fire to the passions of the people and thereby crippling every line of business in the state.

NO STEPS TAKEN TO SETTLE THE GOVERNORSHIP CONTEST

DENVER, Jan. 4.—No action was taken by the legislature today looking toward a settlement of the gubernatorial contest, and it is not likely that anything in this direction will be undertaken at the first session tomorrow.

The house progressed rapidly with its work, effected its permanent organization by electing William H. Dickson as speaker, and just prior to an hour's recess taken at 2 o'clock, sent word to the senate that it wanted to go into a joint session for the purpose of hearing the governor's message and of canvassing the vote.

Senate Makes Little Progress.

The senate, however, made no such progress as the house and when it adjourned at 3:30 was not prepared to enter upon a joint session. Its troubles came through the report of the credentials committee which declared that all members were entitled to their seats except Senators Born and Healey, who were arbitrarily seated by the Democrats two years ago.

Lieutenant Governor Haggott, who presided over the senate, declined to receive the report, saying that while in his opinion they had been illegally seated, still they had been seated, and it would require something stronger than the report of the committee on credentials to deprive them of their seats. A long debate followed, a recess was taken, and at the conclusion of the recess the senate adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. When the senate meets tomorrow an attempt will be made to oust the two senators.

It requires a two-thirds vote to deprive a member of his seat and the Republicans have but 19 senators against 16 Democrats. The plan most in favor tonight is to reconsider the vote by which they were seated two years ago. Lieutenant Governor Haggott declared that a motion to reconsider could be made only by some member of the senate who two years ago voted in the affirmative on the question of seating Senators Born and Healey.

Depends Upon Barela.

There is but one member who is in a position to make this motion. He is Senator Casimero Barela of Las Animas, who two years ago voted with the Democrats but who has this session been classed with the Republicans. It is not likely that any joint session will be held either to receive the message of Governor Peabody or to canvass the vote until the senatorial fight is settled.

There has so far been not the slightest evidence of any disturbance, nor has there been in any direction any indication of a breach of the peace because of the political situation. The Democratic leaders both in the house and senate accepted the scanty emoluments that accrue to the minority with the greatest good humor.

Party Vote on Speaker.

The only opposition made by them to the plans of the Republicans was to nominate W. W. Rowan for speaker of the house against Wm. H. Dickson. Mr. Rowan was beaten on a strict party vote of 44 to 17. When the slate for the minor officers of the house was brought in, Mr. Maguire, the Democratic leader, was asked by Speaker Dickson if he wished to present any candidates. Mr. Maguire laughed and replied:

"I don't think we have any candidates. We recognize that you are in the majority, and that you have a right to the spoils. I know that we would have them if conditions were reversed."

FORESTRY CONGRESS

Severe Criticisms of Land Laws and Methods of Their Application.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The American Forestry congress resumed its session today. The papers read at the morning session related to the subject of "The lumber industry and the forests."

Discussing the subject of the Pacific coast forests as differing from others, George P. Emerson, of Hoquiem, Washington, said that the application of any method of forest perpetuation adapted to eastern woods was impossible.

Mr. Emerson severely criticised some features of the homestead laws saying that the general land office had eased the consciences of settlers in perfecting their proof by declaring all land "not stony or gravelly was agricultural," although, he said, never in the lifetime of those settlers did they expect to see anything grown on the land but timber.

Public opinion, Mr. Emerson said, had approved such an evasion of "a ridiculous law" and he said that the government, not the settlers, should be investigated.

The timber act he characterized as having been framed in the interests of land grabbers, while "still more ridiculous and criminally wrong" was the lieu land law by which anyone claiming within a forest reserve relinquished to the government and selected equal areas outside the reserve.

Captain George P. Ahern, chief of the Philippine bureau of forestry gave an interesting review of the work of his office and the steps taken to economically utilize the timber resources of the Philippine archipelago.

The afternoon session was presided over by F. J. Hagenbarth, president of the National Live Stock association, the subject of discussion being "The Importance of Forest Lands to Grazing."

W. B. Sandiland, of Utah, a wool grower, defended the practice of allowing sheep and cattle to graze on forest reservations. He declared that sheep were a protection against forest fires because of their converting into food millions of tons of vegetation.

Discussing the practical results of the regulations of grazing in the forest reserves, A. F. Potter of the United States bureau of forestry, said that care had been taken to avoid any unnecessary disturbance of business by sudden changes in the manner of using grazing lands.

He added that the regulations had done much toward preventing range controversies between cattlemen and sheepmen.

"The protection of home builders in the region of grazing on the forest reserves" formed the subject of a paper by E. S. Gosney, president of the Arizona Wool Growers' association.

The congress adopted the suggestions of the committee appointed by the American Forestry association regarding plans of affiliation between that association and other organizations.

GLENWOOD BATHS

Closed Indefinitely on Account of Failure of Company to Secure a 20-Year Renewal of Its Franchise.

GLENWOOD SPRINGS, Colo., Jan. 4.—The bath houses and the big swimming pool were closed today by the Glenwood Hot Springs company and will remain closed until present plans are changed. This action was taken, it is announced, in consequence of the refusal of a 20-years' renewal of the franchise of the Glenwood Light and Water company. The vote on the franchise renewal at the special election resulted in a tie.

SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT OF THE BANK OF VICTOR

Special to the Gazette.

VICTOR, Jan. 4.—The semi-annual statement of the bank of Victor, made at the close of business January 2, shows a total cash on hand of $759,627.85, which with other assets amounts to $1,134,954.07. In their liability column their deposits show to be $1,092,129.33, which is a very good evidence of the bank's strength, showing that there is but a little of the bank's money loaned out, being always ready for the bank's depositors, who might want it. The statement certainly shows the conservative management and business ability which is used in governing the handling of other people's money and the city of Victor should be proud of the institution.

MAKING OF TWO STATES

Senate Takes Up Aklahoma and Arizona Statehood Bill.

LAND FOR SCHOOLS

LARGE ATTENDANCE OF SENATORS AND THE GENERAL INTEREST IN THE MEASURE MAKE SESSION INTERESTING.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Upon reconvening today after the holiday recess the senate plunged directly into the consideration of the bill for the admission of two states to be composed of Arizona and New Mexico and Oklahoma and Indian Territory. A motion by Mr. Beveridge to take up the bill prevailed by a two-thirds majority. Mr. Hepburn, who renewed his effort to get up the pure food bill voted with the Democrats on one roll call but with this exception the Republicans voted solidly to proceed to the consideration of the statehood bill and the Democrats solidly against that course. A motion by Mr. Bate to recommit was voted down.

Mr. Nelson spoke at length in advocacy of the bill.

Large Attendance.

There was an exceptionally large attendance of senators when the senate was called to order. President Pro Tem Frye being absent, Senator Perkins presided.

Mr. Platt of New York reported a resolution for the printing of 10,000 copies of the report of the commissioners of corporations and accepted an amendment suggested by Mr. Bailey providing for printing with the report a decision of the supreme court of the United States, which he said, the report criticises.

An objection to immediate consideration of the resolution went over.

Mr. Warren reported the omnibus claim bill and gave notice that he would ask early consideration of the bill which represents 1,600 claimants.

Mr. Hepburn introduced a bill for the regulation of corporations which was referred to the committee on the judiciary.

Mr. Beveridge moved that the senate proceed with the consideration of the joint statehood bill. The motion created a brief stir, several senators addressed the chair. Mr. Hepburn asked whether the motion made by him to take up the pure food bill, which was pending when the senate adjourned for the holidays was not pending. The chair decided that the motion had died with that day's session of the senate.

Vote to Proceed.

On the motion to proceed to consideration, the vote was 41 ayes to 14 nays.

The reading of the statehood bill being concluded, Mr. Bate moved to commit that measure because the testimony taken before the committee on territories had not been reported, rendering it difficult to make a minority report. Many of the sittings of the committee, Mr. Bate said, had been held when the senate was in session and this with other circumstances had prevented the attendance of Democratic senators. He pleaded against undue haste in the matter and entered upon an argument against the consolidation of the four territories into two states. Referring to the proposed union of Arizona and New Mexico he said they would make a state of greater area than is comprised in all the New England states with New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania added. The only reason for the consolidation was found, he said, in the desire to prevent an increase of United States senators.

All Members Notified.

Mr. Beveridge said all the members of the committees on territories had been notified of the committee meetings and that failure to attend was the fault of individual members. He also said the fact that the house had made a full report of testimony rendered a similar report by the senate unnecessary.

Mr. Bate admitted that due notice of meetings had been given.

"They wanted us to help make a quorum," he said, "but we did not come up with the ante."

The reference of the venerable senator to a popular game caused a smile around the chamber. His motion was voted down 15 to 31, Mr. Heyburn voting with the Democrats to recommittal.

Mr. Nelson supported the bill as reported by the committee. Referring especially to the territories of Oklahoma and Indian Territory he said they were so constituted as to be the complement each of the other.

Grant of School Lands.

Explaining the grant of land for school purposes Mr. Nelson said that the entire state would get the benefit of the grant to Oklahoma. He also spoke of the grant of $5,000,000 for schools, but said this was not a gratuity as was suggested by Mr. Bailey.

Mr. Foraker and Mr. Bailey united in asking questions concerning the provision referring to the Oklahoma school lands which had already been granted, and Mr. Bailey suggested that it might lead to further trouble.

Mr. Nelson said the reiteration was merely for the purpose of making assurance doubly sure.

In considering the provisions of the bill relative to New Mexico and Arizona he quoted statistics to show that the growth of both territories had been slow and still was meager. He estimated the present population of the two territories at 400,000 or less. He admitted that a large percentage of the people of Arizona were Americans while many of those of New Mexico were Mexicans. He did not admit, however, that a majority of the New Mexico people were Mexicans and he also contended that there was no real enmity between the two nationalities.

Mr. Nelson had not concluded, when on motion of Mr. Cullom the senate at 4:15 p. m. adjourned out of respect to the memory of Representative Mahoney of Illinois.

DEATH OUTRUNS STAGE AND TRAIN

MRS. WARNOCK AND CHILDREN OF ROUTT COUNTY ARRIVE IN CRIPPLE CREEK TO FIND HUSBAND AND FATHER DEAD.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—After traveling a distance of 50 miles by stage, accompanied by four little children, all hoping to find the man they loved still alive, Mrs. James Warnock arrived in this city this morning, coming from Steamboat Springs in Routt county, only to find the husband and father cold in death.

Mr. James Warnock, who was residing on a ranch near Steamboat Springs, decided some two weeks ago to return to the district and obtain work in the mines during the winter months. Hardly had he secured quarters and obtained a job when he was taken down with pneumonia, from which disease he died at the Sisters' Hospital in this city at a late hour last night. During the last week of his illness he was constantly writing letters and sending telegrams to his loved ones at the ranch of his improved condition, when Monday last friends who saw that the end was near wired his family to come. After successfully braving the bitter experience of the long stage ride to Wolcott the wife received a telegram which was sent early this morning, that her husband was dead.

Continuing the journey from Wolcott to this city, the wife and four children, the oldest of whom is 13 and the youngest 3 years, arrived in this city at 10 o'clock, immediately going to the undertaking establishment where the family have since refused to leave the body of their dear one. It is pitiful to see the little baby who, not understanding death, climbs upon the cold form of her father and kisses the lifeless lips.

Mrs. Warnock is expecting a brother of her late husband from Sanford, Colorado, who will arrive in the district tomorrow morning, when preparations [illegible]

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE MARRIED

MR. AND MRS. A. G. CUNNINGHAM OF CRIPPLE CREEK RECEIVE CONGRATULATIONS AND LEAVE ON BRIDAL TRIP.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Miss Carl Swisher and A. G. Cunningham were united in marriage at the home of the bride at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the Rev. Mr. Keithley performing the ceremony.

Upon the completion of the ceremony the young couple were bundled into a carriage decorated for the occasion and were driven up and down the main streets of the city until train time, when the happy couple departed over the Short Line to Denver, where they will spend a short honeymoon. They received the best wishes of a large number of admirers.

Miss Carl Swisher is a very popular young lady, having taught in the city schools for several terms, while Mr. Cunningham is employed by a grocery firm in this city. On their return Cripple Creek will be their home.

DEMOCRATIC CLUB GIVES A SUCCESSFUL SMOKER.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—The Teller County Democratic club gave a well attended smoker in their spacious club rooms in Odd Fellows' hall tonight. A splendid musical program was rendered, intermingled with a few short speeches by local Democrats, winding up with two six-round bouts between local amateurs with the mitts. On account of the entertainment being entirely free the large crowd expected was realized, so the affair passed off to all appearances as a very successful event.

SUES FOR INSURANCE.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Ida Cartee, widow of J. Cartee who was shot and instantly killed on November 1 in Victor by J. C. Sweitzer, has brought suit in the district court to recover the sum of $2,000 insurance, which she alleges her husband carried at the time of his death, also $500 as attorney's fees.

PRINCE FUSHIMI GETS OVATION AT HONOLULU.

HONOLULU, Jan. 4.—Lieutenant General Prince Fushimi, of Japan, who arrived on the Pacific Mail Steamship company's steamer Mongolia late last night was notified of the surrender of Port Arthur and congratulations were extended to him by the Japanese and other residents of Honolulu.

The prince came ashore this morning and was received with great enthusiasm by the Japanese, who tendered him a reception.

Prince Fushimi sailed this afternoon for Japan.

ENTRY OF JAPANESE INTO PORT ARTHUR

Formal Occupation on January 8 Will Be an Imposing Spectacle—Rojestvensky Will Not Attempt to Reach Vladivostok.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE THIRD JAPANESE ARMY AT PORT ARTHUR, Thursday, Jan. 4.—Via Fusan—The formal entry of the Japanese into Port Arthur, January 8, will be an imposing spectacle. The Japanese officers will be given a banquet in the city January 10. The reason for the surrender of the fortress is evident from a visit to Wantai hill. The entire strength of the position lay in the main line of the outer defenses.

The possession of Wantai gave the besiegers the key to the forts east of the city. The hills in the rear were not fortified and afforded a full cover for the assaulting forces.

Rojestvensky's Program.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 5.—2:20 a. m.—It seems now to be definite that Vice Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron will not attempt at present to reach Vladivostok. The decision has been reached that he will await the third Pacific squadron on which work is proceeding night and day and several ships of which are expected to be ready for service by the end of January. It is by no means certain that Rojestvensky will return with his ships to European waters; he may await the third squadron off the coast of Madagascar and seize and make his base on one of the uninhabited coral islands of Polynesia.

In view of the report that the Japanese intend to invest Vladivostok General Batiavoff, who has been interviewed, has expressed the opinion that if Vladivostok should be blockaded Rojestvensky would be compelled to return.

Many interesting incidents in connection with Port Arthur, heretofore carefully concealed, are now commented upon. When the protected cruiser Boyarin was lost by going on the rocks Captain Sarytchoff, her commander, was subjected to considerable criticism. He appealed personally to Emperor Nicholas for mercy, saying that if forgiven he would sacrifice his life for his country. Thereafter the captain volunteered on every occasion for dangerous duty. He commanded the gunboat Giliak at Kinchou and later a shore battery at Tiger's Tail. Afterward the captain engaged in frequent sorties from the fortifications, but seemed to bear a charmed life and received not so much as a scratch.

Emperor Nicholas is expected to return tomorrow to St. Petersburg, when a council of war will be held.

HABEAS CORPUS FOR FOUNDLINGS

NEW YORK FOUNDLING ASYLUM BEGINS PROCEEDINGS TO REGAIN POSSESSION OF CHILDREN TAKEN TO ARIZONA.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 4.—Habeas corpus proceedings were begun in the supreme court here today on behalf of the New York foundling asylum which seeks possession of about 200 children brought from New York to Arizona by the secretary several months ago and placed in the homes of Mexican families at Morenci and vicinity.

The children were taken away from the society's agents by citizens and regularly adopted through a process of the probate court. The writs are returnable January 9 and will necessitate bringing the children to Phoenix, a distance of over 300 miles.

TELEPHONE SERVICE

One Thousand Instruments in Use in the District Which is More Than in the Palmiest Days.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—For the first time in the history of the district the Colorado Telephone company, under the management of Frank Carroll, has in operation an even 1,000 telephones.

During the palmiest days of the camp it was a common thing for some 30 to 50 brokers to be operating here, every one of whom used a telephone. The present number of telephones is exactly 80 more than at that time, and the manager today stated to your representative that within 60 days the telephone service in the Cripple Creek district would not be equaled by any place in the state.

Improvements costing between $25,000 and $50,000 are being made and with the completion of this work the district will be able to boast of the most improved telephone service in the state.

DEATH OF HER DAUGHTER PROSTRATES MRS. YOUNG.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Ruth Young, aged 15, one of the brightest and most promising pupils of the High school in this city, died this morning from erysipelas. Deceased was the daughter of Dr. E. K. Young. The mother of the girl is completely prostrated tonight over the loss. The funeral will take place Friday afternoon from the First Baptist church, and interment will be made at Mt. Pisgah cemetery.

STEAMER RELEASED.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 4.—The British steamer Crusader arrived here today from Moji, Japan, with 6,000 tons of coal. On her outward voyage from Astoria ports to Shanghai, the Crusader was captured by a Japanese cruiser and taken to Hakodate. The vessel was released within 24 hours, it being made plain to the authorities that her destination was a neutral port and that she had no intention of attempting to reach Vladivostok. The officers of the Crusader say that they were well treated during their detention by the Japanese.

GRAND JURY TAKES UP DODGE-MORSE DIVORCE.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Formal investigation of the complicated tangle growing out of the so called Dodge-Morse divorce case was begun today by the grand jury. Dodge is in poor health and was said not to be in condition to go before the jury today.

ASKS APPROPRIATION.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The department of agriculture has transmitted to congress a request for an efficiency appropriation of $150,000 to continue the work of eradication of scabies in sheep and mange in cattle.

WILL NOT COURT MARTIAL STOESSEL

RUSSIAN MILITARY LAW PROVIDES FOR TRIAL FOR SURRENDER OF FORTRESS, BUT CZAR MAY FORBID.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—The scenes at the admiralty and war office today were a repetition of those of yesterday, crowds of weeping women and children vainly asking for lists of the survivors of the Port Arthur garrison, which could not be furnished.

While the Russian military law is imperative in the requirement that the commander of a fortress who surrenders shall be tried by court martial, the emperor undoubtedly will order that this formality be dispensed with in the case of General Stoessel.

BREAKING THE NEWS TO MOTHER

MRS. BECK OF VICTOR RECEIVES TELEGRAM SAYING HER MISSING DAUGHTER WAS TO BE MARRIED AT TUCSON.

Special to the Gazette.

VICTOR, Jan. 4.—Miss Grace Beck of this city, who has been missing for several days, was heard from today by a telegram received by the girl's mother from Bert Chester at Tuscon, Ariz., when the mother was informed that the young couple would be married at 2 o'clock this afternoon and leave for Victor tomorrow, when they would expect the mother's blessing.

Miss Beck is the daughter of Melvin Beck, who with Charles McCormick was killed in the Vindicator mine a little over a year ago by an infernal machine.

CRAWFORD WILL HAVE TO UNDERGO AN OPERATION.

Special to the Gazette.

VICTOR, Jan. 4.—M. E. Crawford has for several weeks been confined in the Victor hospital, thought to be suffering from an abscess on the left side. It has been found that he has tubercular peritonitis, necessitating an operation.

In the Red Cross hospital Walter Gresham and Curtis Stark, miners of the district are both in a critical condition, suffering from pneumonia. However, attending physicians are giving their constant attention to the two cases and hope to save the lives of both patients.

MONTANA SUPREME COURT WILL OPEN BALLOT BOXES.

HELENA, Mont., Jan. 4.—The supreme court today issued an order commanding W. N. Waugh to produce the ballots of precinct 34 in court Friday next, when the election case affecting the district judgeship of Silver Bow county will be heard by the supreme court.

MASSACHUSETTS HOUSE UNSEATS MEMBER IN JAIL.

BOSTON, Jan. 4.—The Massachusetts house today unseated Representative Thomas F. Curley, of the Seventeenth Suffolk district. He is serving a jail sentence for fraud against the United States government in connection with civil service examinations.

RUSSIAN LOAN.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—An imperial decree, dated December 29, is published today authorizing the issue of a loan of $31,000,000.

ENTERTAINMENT—The concert tonight at Perkins hall by the Emery Gamble Recital company will be one of the musical events of the winter. The entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Pikes Peak company No. 10, Uniform Rank, K. P.

Inhabitants Total 35,000, of Whom 20,000 are Sick Garrison to March Out Tomorrow--- Food and Medicine for the Russians.

TOKIO, Jan. 4.—The Japanese captured 23,000 prisoners at Port Arthur. The total number of inhabitants is 35,000, of whom 20,000 are sick.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE THIRD JAPANESE ARMY, Jan. 3—via Fusan.—The request of the Russians for food, medicines and physicians for their sick and wounded has been granted. Itse, Antse and Tayangkow forts were taken over by the Japanese at noon today.

The date on which the Russian prisoners of war will be marched out has been delayed until January 5.

TOKIO, Jan. 4—Noon.—General Nogi reports to the army department that on January 3 the commissioners of both the Japanese and Russian armies concluded their conference and that from the morning of January 4 the actual transfer of war materials at Port Arthur as property of the Japanese government commenced.

TOKIO, Jan. 4.—The emperor of Russia has cabled to General Stoessel saying that the giving of their parole or the alternative of imprisonment is optional with the officers.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE JAPANESE THIRD ARMY AT PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 3.—Via Chefoo, Jan. 4. 8 p. m.—(Censored)—The flag of the Rising Sun floats tonight over the captured citadel of Port Arthur.

When the news of the surrender of the fortress reached the soldiers yesterday, leaping from mouth to mouth, the Japanese drew close to their late enemies and fraternized freely with them. When nightfall came great bonfires rose in the Japanese camp like a blazing halo, while great choruses of "banzais" echoed through the hills.

The entire garrison and all the non-combatants will march out of the city tomorrow to the village of Yahutiwei, near the shores of Pigeon bay, from which place the Russian officers will be transported to Dalny, and thence to wherever they may desire. The prisoners of war will be detained at the Russian barracks in the village until they can be transferred to Dalny.

The conference between the Russian and Japanese commissioners at which the terms of surrender were arranged took place at the village of Shuishiying at 1 o'clock yesterday (Monday) afternoon and lasted until 8 o'clock tonight (Tuesday).

The Russian commissioners were Chief of Staff Reiss, Surgeon General Ballaschoff, Colonel Vostok and two other staff officers, with two interpreters. The Japanese commissioners were Major General Ijichi, chief of staff; Major Yamaoka, Dr. Ariga and two others, staff officers, with two interpreters.

First Intimation.

Though the intimation that the Russians were willing to surrender was known to the officers of the Japanese staff on the afternoon of January 1, it was not generally known to the hundred thousand of the investing army until yesterday (Monday).

The surrender of the fortress at the present time came as a surprise even to the Japanese as the desperate determination and courage of the Russians, even in the last assaults, indicated that the struggle would be one to the bitter end.

It was well known to the Japanese that the destruction of the forts guarding the main defenses of the western half of the eastern fortified ridge made the investment of the city upon the east only a matter of a short time, despite the strongest efforts of the defenders and thus insured the segregation of the forts further east upon the ridge.

The tremendous effect of the explosion which wrecked Sungshun mountain fort, the last of the forts guarding the main defenses of the eastern fortified ridge in which half of the defenders were killed and the remainder entombed or made prisoners, completed the disorganization of the defense.

Spirited Assault.

The subsequent spirited assault by the Japanese upon the principal line of outer fortifications, and the higher hills of the fortified ridge immediately after the capture of Sungshun mountain fort, was met with feeble opposition, and the night of January 1st saw the besiegers in the possession of the upper line of the fortified ridge from East Keekwan mountain to the western extremity.

Had the garrison fought as it had previously done, this would have at least taken days to accomplish and would have cost many lives. The first definite intimation of the Russian intention to surrender came at four o'clock in the afternoon of January 1, when the Russian envoys approached the Japanese lines south of the village of Shuishiying.

They were met by a Japanese staff officer, to whom they delivered the letter of General Stoessel to General Nogi, asking to have a time for parley arranged.

In this letter, as already known, General Stoessel admitted the hopelessness of further continuing the struggle, and that he was prepared to surrender in order to save the lives of the remnant of the brave garrison which had fought so long and so well, provided suitable terms could be arranged. He asked for a conference to settle these terms.

Major General Ijichi, with a little escort, left the Japanese headquarters at eleven o'clock Monday morning and rode to the appointed place. Shortly before 1 o'clock the Russian commissioners arrived, accompanied by a cavalry escort.

The conference took place with few preliminaries and lasted until 8 o'clock at night.

TOKIO, Jan. 4—Evening.—The following report was received from General Nogi at 3 o'clock this afternoon:

"Order is maintained at Port Arthur by the officers. The people are quiet.

"Our minute investigation was not finished until Tuesday night.

"The total number of inhabitants is about 35,000, of whom 25,000 are soldiers or sailors. The total number of sick or wounded is 20,000.

"Common provisions and bread are plentiful, but there is a scarcity of meat and vegetables.

"There are no medical supplies at Port Arthur. The Japanese are strenuously succoring the people.

RUSSIAN OFFICERS ON THE NIGRETA NO LONGER CONCEAL THEIR IDENTITY.

TOKIO, Jan. 4. 11 a. m. Commander Pelem and a lieutenant of the Russian torpedo boat destroyer Rastoropny, who were captured on board the British steamer Nigreta and taken on board of her to Sasebo, have confessed their identity before the naval court there. Heretofore they posed as German supercargoes, but when confronted with the results of the Japanese investigations at Shanghai, concealment was impossible. They have been declared prisoners of war.

ASKS FOR WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS DECISION OF COURT TO BE GIVEN TOMORROW.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—Nan Patterson, accused of the murder of Caesar Young, was taken before Justice Greenbaum today on a writ of habeas corpus secured by her counsel, directing that the district attorney appear to show cause why bail should not be fixed and accepted. After hearing arguments Justice Greenbaum reserved his decision until tomorrow, instructing counsel to submit briefs in the meantime.

[illegible] COURT'S DECISION [illegible] WIDE APPLICATION

DENVER, Jan. 4.—The supreme court this morning directed that an inquiry be made into the conduct of the last election in this city, and ordered that it assume the scope asked by the Republicans.

This means that the investigation shall not only take in the ballot boxes, but the poll books, registration slips, and all other matters pertaining to the election.

The application of Alva Adams for a modification of the order, limiting it to the ballot boxes only, was denied.

The order was, however, modified in the matter of expense. It was directed that Mr. Adams pay one-half of the expenses attendant upon the examination of the boxes, and one-half of the salary of the referee to be appointed by the supreme court in this connection.

The Republicans were directed to pay one-half the expenses incident to the examination of the boxes, and all the cost of the investigations of all other matters pertaining to the election.

Alva Adams Is to Pay One-Half of Cost of Opening Ballot Boxes.

This puts upon Mr. Adams no greater financial burden than that which his attorneys yesterday announced he would be willing to assume, and allows the Republicans to pay for the greater part of the investigation which Attorney H. J. Hersey yesterday announced they were willing to do.

When the court opened none of Mr. Adams' attorneys were in court, and Chief Justice Gabbert directed the clerk to telephone to the office of C. S. Thomas, leading counsil for Mr. Adams, and ask if he desired to be present in court when the announcement concerning the order was made. The clerk returned with the information that all of Mr. Adams' counsel had left the city. Chief Justice Gabbert thereupon announced his decision.

"It has been claimed by Mr. Adams' attorneys," he said, "that this investigation will take up matters which his application for an investigation did not intend to be taken up. There is no foundation for this claim. When counsel presented the application for an investigation there was nothing said by them limiting its scope. When the order was issued by the court last Friday to the effect that all the election machinery should be investigated, Mr. Belford, one of Mr. Adams' attorneys, was present, and he then offered no objection.

"An inspection of the petition submitted in behalf of Mr. Adams discloses no mention of a desire to limit the investigation. There is absolutely no good reason why the inquiry should not take the scope ordered by the court."

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS BEING MADE ON DISABLEMENT OF THE RUSSIAN BOATS.

CHEFOO, Jan. 4. Evening. The protected cruiser Akitsushima, four torpedo boat destroyers and two torpedo boats constituted today's Japanese guard off this port. The destroyers which guarded the Russian flotilla last night, went out at the expiration of twenty-four hours, returning immediately with others. They have been in and out of the harbor intermittently ever since.

Tonight all the Russian destroyers withdrew to the south side of the harbor, where they probably will remain until their disarmament is complete.

Japanese Consul Mizouno inspected the Russian vessels during the day, and pronounced the progress made in their disarmament satisfactory.

It is said that the booty which fell into the hands of the Japanese at Port Arthur amounted only to 80,000 tons of coal and two months' rations of rice.

Of 270 officers of the Russian navy at Port Arthur at the beginning of the war 180 have been killed or wounded, many of them while doing duty in the forts.

DENVER, Jan. 4.—When the hands of the two big clocks in the chambers of the senate and the house of representatives rested upon the hour of noon today the fifteenth general assembly of the state of Colorado was convened.

The Democrats, although in a hopeless minority, having only 18 members, made themselves apparent by naming W. W. Rowan as speaker. Rowan received the 18 votes of the Democrats and Dickson received the solid vote of the entire Republican delegation.

The galleries of both chambers were filled with interested spectators, all anxious to see the opening of the legislature, and the number of women in the galleries was unusually large.

The scene was one of inspiration. Flowers were on the desks of the members and were particularly profuse on the desks of those members who had been successful in returning to the legislature.

The lobby was filled with well known politicians from all parts of the state and the cushioned seats along the side of the chamber held their full quota of interested spectators. In the cloakrooms were many constituents of representatives who had come to see their favorites sworn in as law makers, and to wish them brilliant and successful careers.

During the last session of the legislature, armed guards filled the state house, and the halls swarmed with members of the police and sheriff's offices, under the direction of Undersheriff O'Neill. The reason for this was that the house was in a state of turmoil, and it was thought best to have a liberal supply of guards. The fight was over the election of a United States senator.

Office Seekers.

There were, as there always is crowds of office seekers, hunters seeking as it were what they might devour. Successful clerks were congratulating one another on getting reappointed, and sympathizing with those who had been unsuccessful, but who still had hopes of getting in somewhere.

The galleries were filled with stylishly dressed women, and formed a blaze of color against the small army of black suited men. Women were there who were old timers—that is, they had attended previous openings, and these were pointing out to their companions members on the floor who had returned to the legislature. One woman, evidently an old timer at openings, was the center of attraction. "There's McKenzie," she said, "and Mulqueen, the only Democrats re-elected in the assembly."

"Which?" asked her companion. "Why, that short fat man leaning against a pillar smoking a cigar. The smooth faced man."

Dickson, the speaker-elect, was the cynosure of all eyes, as he is the man who came near to disrupting the Republican party.

[illegible] NEW INDICTMENTS IN LAND FRAUD CASE

W. D. Kinney the Complaining Witness in Case Against Ascough, Clark and Others---Sum Involved Said to Be $4,000.

This afternoon W. D. Ascough and Miss Emma Sonnikson, against whom, among others, new informations were filed in the district court today charging conspiracy to defraud, furnished bond to the sheriff in the sum of $5,000 and $3,000 respectively, their bondsmen being N. B. Hames and C. D. Taylor, both of Colorado City.

W. S. Mitchell, who was surrendered to the sheriff by his bondsmen yesterday, and the amount of whose new bond was placed at $4,000, today furnished bond in the latter sum, his signers being W. D. Ascough, of Colorado City, and William B. Dye, of Rocky Ford.

Five new informations growing out of the alleged land fraud conspiracy in Colorado City were filed with the clerk of the district court today and capiases were issued. As three of the defendants are in jail and the others now under bond, no difficulty in serving the capiases was anticipated, although at an early hour this afternoon they had not been served.

The defendants in the new cases are W. D. Ascough, Emma Sonnikson, H. B. Clark, "Red" Gibson and Harry Crawford, being the same as in the cases already pending with the exception that W. S. Mitchell is not included.

The charge is the same as in the former cases, conspiracy to defraud, but the complaining witness is a different person, it being understood on excellent authority that in the new cases the complaint is sworn to by Mr. W. F. Kinney, although the parties interested in the prosecution of these cases are guarding the details of the transactions with the utmost care and refuse absolutely to give out any information concerning the matter.

The defendants are charged with having attempted, in the transactions resulting in the new cases as well as in those already known, to have conspired together to negotiate a loan upon real estate that they do not own. As to the details of the transaction, it was not possible this morning, to secure any statement, the attorneys for Mr. Kinney refusing to say anything on the subject and Mr. Kinney himself saying:

"I am under absolute instructions to refer you to my attorneys for all information pertaining to the case. I only wish that it were possible for me to tell you half of what I know in the matter, but I cannot prejudice the case against the instructions of my lawyers."

The amount of money that is said to have been involved in the conspiracy to negotiate a loan, on which the new cases are based, is said to have been $4,000.

Bond in the case of W. D. Ascough in this case is placed at $5,000. Miss Sonnikson is called upon to furnish $3,000 bond and each of the others, $2,000. Ascough and Miss Sonnikson are under $1,500 bond in the former cases. Clark, Crawford and Gibson are already in jail in default of $4,000 bond in the original cases.

[illegible] STORM SWEEPS EAST

New York City and Other Eastern Points Suffer From Violent Winter Weather.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—New York city, and all the surrounding country today was in the grasp of the most severe storm of the winter. Traffic of all kinds was hampered, trolley lines were tied up and the streets, swept by a gale driving before it fine snow that cut like sand and piled in great drifts, were practically impassable.

Railroad trains from all points were delayed from a few minutes to three hours, and the elevated trains were operated with the greatest difficulty without regard to schedule. At sea the conditions must have been severe, but so far no disaster has been reported.

All over the city early today trolley cars were found blocked in the streets, great drifts piled against them, preventing them from moving an inch. In many of the cars, were snowbound passengers, who had remained in the cars all night rather than face the blizzard in an attempt to walk to their homes.

Because of the severity of the storm, policemen were sent out during the early hours to rescue persons who had fallen in the snow. The doors of every station were thrown open to the homeless and unfortunate. The city lodging house was crowded by men, women and children, and not an applicant was turned away from Bellevue hospital.

[illegible] OHIO RIVER STEAMER WAS WRECKED IN ZERO WEATHER, TAKING TEN EMPLOYES

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Jan. 4.—Eight men are known to be dead and three seriously injured in a boiler explosion and fire that destroyed the Pittsburg towboat Defender here early today.

The dead:

PERRY SPENCER, mate, Point Pleasant.

HORACE WETZEL, watchman, Pittsburg.

JAMES SEESE, lamp trimmer, Pittsburg.

ALBERT HAMILTON, fireman, Pittsburg.

MICHAEL STAFFORD, fireman, Pittsburg.

THOMAS DUFFY, foreman, Pittsburg.

WILLIAM WETZEL, deck hand.

GEORGE KIDD, deck hand.

The Defender was returning from Cincinnati with a tow of empties. Captain James Woodward was in the pilot house at the time of the accident and with the exception of fireman, engineer and the watchman, the remainder of the crew were asleep.

The explosion of the starboard boilers blew out the entire side of the boat and awakened the sleeping members of the crew. The survivors grabbed what clothing they could find and plunged into the icy waters of the Ohio river in an effort to escape.

The night was bitter cold, the thermometer hovering about zero, and as the explosion occurred at a point some distance from any town, those who escaped were nearly frozen before they could be given shelter. The boat caught fire immediately following the explosion and drifted down the river about two hundred yards, where she sank in shallow water.

Captain Woodward says that the origin of the explosion is a complete mystery as the boilers were so far as known in excellent condition.

A number of men are working on the wreck today to recover the bodies of the dead. So far six bodies have been recovered.

NEW YORK LEGISLATURE HEARS FROM GOV. HIGGINS

ALBANY, Jan. 4.—The state legislature assembled today for its session of 1905. After organizing the first annual message of Governor Higgins was received and read.

Governor Higgins recommends the repeal of the tax on the surplus and undivided profits of savings banks and that some more equitable method of raising the amount lost to the state by the repeal of the law be resorted to.

In the matter of election reforms, the governor points out some of the ways in which the elective franchise has been violated and commends the entire subject to the legislature for action. On State water ways he says:

"The enlargement of the canal system of the state will be carried out to a considerable extent by the canalization of the rivers and other navigable waters of the state. It would," he says, "seem proper that the senators and representatives of the state of New York in the national congress be memorialized by the legislature to press the claims of this state for larger appropriations for the improvement of natural waterways in connection with the canal system of the state."

On the subject of banks Governor Higgins urges the enactment of restrictive legislation guarding the rights of the depositor and protecting him from loss caused by unsafe banking. The list of securities, he continues, in which savings banks may invest the money of their depositors should be extended only with the greatest caution.

Special legislation enumerating the authorized investments should be superseded by a general law establishing proper standards of safety. Savings banks should be denied to people of wealth who are capable of managing their own affairs and who seek deposits therein for investment purposes only.

Investment associations and concerns should be brought more strictly under state control.

The provisions of the national bank act limiting the total liabilities for money borrowed by any person to ten per cent of the amount of the paid-in capital stock of the bank are to be commended. He says that with reasonable exceptions as to the discount of strict business or secured paper the similar provision in the state law be amended by fixing the amount to be loaned to the individual borrower at not more than twenty per cent of the capital stock actually paid in.

The total gross receipts under the liquor tax law for the year were $17,797,842, an increase of $1,694,057 over the previous year. The governor deems is worthy of consideration by the legislature whether the right of local option now limited to the towns of the state should not be extended to the cities.

LEGISLATURE CONVENED [illegible] TODAY

After making its report after the recess, Speaker Dickson took up the gavel to yield it for three strenuous months.

The members were then assigned seats, the old members taking their former seats and the new ones sitting wherever they happened to be. According to the ancient, time-honored custom, the Democrats were seated on the right of the main aisle, and the Republicans on the left.

The message of the governor was not read today, but probably will be tomorrow. There is no compulsory law demanding that it be ready today. The contest cases will be taken up in all probability on Friday.

In the senate everybody was seated, including Healey and Born, who will probably be unseated later. These senators were put in for the purpose of electing Senator Teller.

From the harmony which has prevailed and the smoothness with which the assembly was organized for business, it would indicate that the Peabody forces are very strong, which means that his chances for election are getting steadily better until now his election seems almost assured.

OPENING SCENES OF THE LEGISLATURE

DENVER, Jan. 4.—The Democrats have decided that on January 10 the date prescribed by the statutes, they will have Alva Adams sworn in as governor of the state. The oath will be administered by Justice Steele, of the supreme court. The hour and place of the ceremony have not been definitely settled.

The fifteenth general assembly was called to order at noon today, and the work of organization commenced at once. Lieutenant Governor Haggott presided over the senate, and the permanent organization of the house was effected by the choice of William H. Dickson, as chairman.

It was somewhat doubtful if the legislature would be able to do more than permanently organize today, but it is alleged to be part of the program to unseat six Democratic senators as soon as the senate is in [illegible]. This, when done, will make the senate twenty-five Republicans and nine Democrats.

There are four contests in the house, in every one of which the Republicans are contestants. If these are decided in favor of the Republicans, the make-up of the house will be:

Republicans 51, Democrats 14. The present strength on joint ballot is: Democrats [illegible], Republicans 66. If all contests are decided favorable to the Republicans, it will be Democrats 23, Republicans 76. There is one vacancy in the senate. It is possible, but not probable, that the legislature, by the end of the day, may canvass the votes for the state offices. If it is not done today it will be taken up the first thing tomorrow.

Harry C. Riddle, the Republican member of the city election commission, this morning handed to the secretary of state a statement to the effect that he had certified to the result of the vote in Denver, only because he had been ordered to do so by the supreme court. He did not contradict the facts as set forth in the return of the commission, but declared that, in his opinion, the court would not have ordered him to certify the returns if it had possessed equal knowledge with Mr. Riddle of the exact situation.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR DISSOLVES HUNGARIAN PARLIAMENT

BUDAPEST, Hungary, Jan. 4.—The King-Emperor Francis Joseph formally dissolved the diet today in a speech from the throne dealing with the parliamentary situation. The speech said:

"The experiences of the recent past determined a large part of the chamber of deputies to place on the order of the day the question of a reform in the standing orders. The conflicts arising therefrom, however, created a situation of such a critical character that we can no longer hope for the re-establishment of the working capability of the present diet. In view of this fact we consider it our constitutional duty to afford the nation an opportunity for declaring its attitude. We do so with full confidence in the devotion of the nation to its constitutional institutions and its innate political wisdom.

The harmony between the king and the nation and their mutual confidence have established conditions of undisturbed constitutional life and the undisturbed, successful working of the free institutions of the nation has in the past rendered a beneficent period of peaceful development possible. If now the working of these institutions encounters obstacles on international grounds it is incumbent on the nation to manifest its will. For these reasons we have on the proposal of our government decided on the dissolution of the diet before the expiration of the parliamentary term."

RUSSIAN RESENTMENT AROUSED BY SUGGESTIONS OF PEACE

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 4.—2:40 a. m.—The flood of telegrams from abroad bringing talk of peace arouses only resentment in official circles here, and many liberals who are urgently pressing the government for reforms, declare emphatically against any cessation of hostilities until Russia's honor is vindicated by a victory in Manchuria.

Equal resentment is aroused by foreign criticism of General Stoessel for blowing up the ships in the harbor and destroying the town of Port Arthur when he could no longer defend them.

Accounts received from Port Arthur refugees of the straits to which the garrison was reduced before it surrendered, are almost unexampled. It is quite true that some explosives were left with the ships, and some houses were destroyed, but the ammunition of many of the forts was absolutely exhausted. Some had not fired a shot for two days before the negotiations opened. The men had been living solely on rice for a month, and many were suffering from scurvy. Even the effective soldiers were nearly all wounded and dropped asleep amid the Japanese bombardment beside their own useless guns. One man who had passed through the siege has turned a white-haired, prematurely aged man.

Admiration here for the heroic defense is mingled with wonder how General Stoessel continued to hide the true condition of the garrison from the world. The emperor has already granted General Stoessel's request that his officers be allowed to give the parole.

In Russia, for the moment the people seem to have forgotten all their differences in the common grief. The revolutionists, who had intended to mark the event with demonstrations openly found the moment inopportune, and no disturbance is reported anywhere in Russia today.

The government's position is a difficult one. It has enemies ready to take advantage of whatever course it adopts, and peace under present conditions would probably compromise the dynasty more than the determination to continue the war to the bitter end.

The emperor will arrive here today and a council of his advisers will likely be held immediately. Much as the situation is complicated by agitation at home, the war party seems still completely in the ascendancy, and the indications are that the emperor's advisers are practically unanimous that Russia's prestige abroad and the security of the dynasty at home make it impossible for Russia to accept a humiliating peace dictated by Japan as the conqueror. Still, there is every evidence that Japan would proffer moderate terms, and it is possible an offer of generous terms would make a good impression and pave the way for the reception of proposals in a conciliatory spirit.

STATUE GIFT TO IOWA A WHITE ELEPHANT

Work of Art Presented to the State by the World's Fair Is Cause of Embarrassment.

WEBSTER CITY, Iowa, Jan. 4.—The state of Iowa has been offered a statue about half as high as the state house, and does not know what to do with it. There was a colonnade at the St. Louis exposition. About this the columns which made it were formed to represent the states. Iowa was among the most conspicuous. It is this statue that the state has been offered.

President Francis of the exposition company has written Governor Cummins offering the statue to Iowa, if the state will pay the expense of removing it from St. Louis. Governor Cummins immediately suggested to Curator Aldrich of the state historical department that it should be turned over to his department. Mr. Aldrich sought in vain for a spot in his domain sufficiently large to accommodate the statue. He finally wrote the governor telling him that the historical building would not hold the work.

Board May Take Charge.

The board of control is making its semi-annual visit to the state institutions in central Iowa and could not be consulted as whether it would claim the statue under the law of the last general assembly which made over to the board all the property of Iowa at the exposition.

It has been suggested that the statue be placed in the magnificent agricultural, dairy and horticultural hall at the state fair grounds, and this suggestion awaits disposal.

The statue is constructed of staff. It is enormous in size, but real art. However, it is perishable, and probably within a few years will have crumbled away. Nevertheless, it is a valuable reminder of the great fair and the conspicuous part that Iowa played therein. It cost a great deal of money originally.

The same offer as that made by President Francis to Governor Cummins has been made to every state that was represented by a statue in the colonnade.

Statehouse Too Small.

The statue is too large to find a place in the statehouse. The tendency has been against statues in that building. One representing the massacre of Fort Dearborn, a group of heroic size, depicting the slaughter of white innocents by the red friends about Chicago, was ruined last year by an attempt to remove it from the second floor of the building. It now lies in a darkened corner of the basement, a jumble of legs, arms, scalping knives and plaster of paris babies.

It's probable that if the statue finally is turned over to the state board of control it turned over to the state board of control it will go to the ornamentation of one of the state institution grounds. While of staff, it is said to be more durable than some kinds of rock, and will last for years and years. In view of the elegant quarters which the state legislature provided that the board of control should furnish for the drunkards of the state, it has been suggested that the statue be used to ornament the grounds at the dipsomaniacs' winter home at Knoxville.

Attorney General Suggests More Care in Instructing Juries.

DENVER, Jan. 4.—The biennial report of Attorney General N. C. Miller was issued today. It is made up largely of opinions given by the attorney general as requested by the heads of the several departments of state, the most important of these being opinions covering public printing, appropriations, power of the state board of land commissioners and corporations, and the powers of certain boards in control of state institutions.

During the administration of Attorney General Miller numerous important suits have been completed and others commenced. It was necessary to bring suits to test the validity of the liquor license tax, the annual state corporation tax, and the inheritance tax. All of these suits were sustained and the tax declared legal. The corporation tax case was appealed and will be heard soon in the court of appeals. The suit against the Pullman Palace Car company is another important matter awaiting hearing.

The Kansas-Colorado water rights suit, still pending in the United States supreme court, is one of the most important legal contentions ever brought up in the state, and its present status is touched upon in the report. The attorney general, while not discussing the case at length, says the outcome appears more favorable to Colorado as the conditions of irrigation have been developed.

The attorney general calls attention to the number of murder cases reversed during his administration, every one of which turned upon a faulty instruction. He recommends the courts take more time in deliberating upon instructions.

AGAIN ON TRIAL

MRS. GALLAUGHER OF MARENGO, IOWA, CHARGED WITH PERJURY IN MURDER CASE.

MARENGO, Iowa, Jan. 4.—The second trial of Mrs. Sarah Ellen Gallaugher on the charge of perjury in the trial for the murder of her husband June 19, 1902, commenced here today before Judge Byington, the defense having secured a change of venue from Johnson county.

James Gallaugher was murdered while he lay sleeping. Footprints leading to the home of one Charles Halluda were found, and the latter placed under arrest. He was convicted of complicity in the murder and given a life sentence. Mrs. Gallaugher was also indicted, testified in her own behalf and was acquitted.

She was afterwards indicted for perjury but the verdict was set aside by the supreme court.

THOMAS DEAD

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Theodore Thomas, the noted orchestra leader, died of pneumonia at his residence here early today. He was 78 years old.

Death came to the world-famous director almost at the hour of achieving his ambition of years—the establishment of the Chicago orchestra in a magnificent permanent home. Mr. Thomas lived to lead his orchestra in but four concerts in the great new hall built by popular subscription. His last appearance was at the concert on Saturday, the day before Christmas.

CHINA'S GIFT TO FRANCIS.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 3.—Wong Kai Kah, Imperial Vice Commissioner General from China to the World's fair, announced that his Government had presented the Chinese World's fair pavilion, which was erected at a cost of $125,000, to David R. Francis, president of the exposition company.

Mr. Wong also stated that President Francis had accepted the gift and assured him that the pavilion would be placed on a permanent site.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM.

SINCE the day after the election, and especially in the last two weeks, the Denver News and its evening accomplice have done their best to spread abroad the belief that the present session of the legislature, which convened yesterday, will carry to its conclusion a desperate, revolutionary plot to place in the Governor's chair a man who was not elected to the position. By means of absolute falsehood, innuendoes, and cleverly phrased half-truths they have sought to convince the people of Colorado and of the country at large that a conspiracy exists to seat James H. Peabody, whether his election is proved or not, and that the issuance of election certificates to Senators Bacela and Millard was an illegal and unwarranted action, designed to make possible the execution of such "conspiracy."

In denial of these malicious calumnies it may be said that the legislature will do nothing whatever in which it is not legally and morally justified. Anybody who looks for a repetition of the stormy scenes of two years ago when the Democrats were in control will be disappointed. If a canvass of the returns shows that Governor Peabody has been re-elected he will be seated, whether Adams, Thomas, Patterson and the other Democratic trouble makers like it or no.

Respect for law is as highly developed in Colorado as in any other state in the country, and we violate no confidence in saying that it is possessed by the Republican leaders of this state in considerably higher degree than by the Democratic leaders. There will be no revolution, no thievery, nor conspiracy; only absolute justice to all concerned.

PENNYPACKER'S PRESS LAW.

GOVERNOR PENNYPACKER of Pennsylvania has the faculty of getting into trouble with the newspapers developed to such a fine point that it amounts to genius. Ever since he took office he has been at war with the press of his state, and especially with a certain Philadelphia newspaper of large circulation and yellow tendencies. A long time ago he was editorially "roasted" and cartooned by that journal because of some official action which did not meet with its approval.

If the Governor had maintained the dignified silence demanded by his position the incident would soon have been forgotten; instead he broke into print with vehement denunciations of the paper, its owner, editors, cartoonists, and everybody connected with it. Result—renewed attacks and more writhings and squirmings by the victim. Then came the famous press gag law, inspired by the Governor and aimed at this particular tormentor, and Pennypacker got more advertising throughout the country than he cared for. The law is now a dead letter and its only effect was to solidify the press of Pennsylvania against the state's chief executive.

In his annual message to the legislature Governor Pennypacker submits a draft of a law providing for the suppression, "in whole or in part," of any newspaper which is "habitually given to the dissemination of falsehood, defamation and scandal." This is all very well so far as it goes, and there is no doubt that the permanent suppression of such newspapers would be a good thing for the communities in which they exist. But who is to determine whether or not a certain paper is of this kind? Governor Pennypacker's idea is that "the person harmed or annoyed" could present a petition to the attorney general setting forth the facts, and if, in the judgment of that official, the showing warranted such action, the case would be brought before the proper court which, upon the production of sufficient proof, would declare such newspaper a nuisance and order its suppression.

Such a law, wisely administered, might have a beneficial effect, but in nine cases out of ten it would be made a mere instrument for the profection of unscrupulous politicians, officials and others with influence, from the exposure of the press. The constitutional guarantee of the freedom of the press is one of the most sacred possessions of the people. In these days of gross corruption in municipal, state and sometimes in national government the triumph of the grafter and corruptionist would be complete if he could strangle the newspapers or make them subservient to his will. It is easy to see that this is precisely what would happen in the majority of cases where dishonest political bosses are powerful enough to control some court.

Governor Pennypacker is an honest man, no doubt, but he is too thin-skinned. His cue is to pay no attention to the attacks of his tormentor, for the more he exposes his vulnerability the more often will the arrows of ridicule pierce him.

THE VALUE OF BATTLESHIPS.

IT IS said that Congress will begin its retrenchment policy by eliminating from the naval bill the appropriations for additional battleships. Funds necessary for the completion of ships authorized or building, and for docks, equipment, etc., will be granted, for there is no desire to reverse the established policy of increasing the Navy as fast as necessity may require, but Congress has decided that it can skip the battleship recommendation of the present session and postpone the expenditure of a few millions without doing injury to the service. This is to be done, according to reports from Washington, not only as a matter of economy, but because the experience of the war in the Far East is supposed to have demonstrated the relative inadequacy of battleships as opposed to torpedo boats.

If this report is true it would be interesting to know by what process of reasoning the naval authorities of Congress have arrived at such a decision. If the operations of the last year in Far Eastern waters have proven anything it is that sea power depends on the ability of a combatant to give and take hard blows. It is true that in the first attack on the Russian squadron made by the Japanese on the night of February 7-8 severe damage was inflicted by the torpedo boats of the attacking party, but nevertheless not a single Russian ship was permanently disabled and every one that was reported sunk took part in the sortie of August 10. This was the first and likewise the last notable appearance of Admiral Togo's torpedo flotilla in the war, while nothing at all has been accomplished by the Russian torpedo service.

After the capture of 203-Meter hill by the Japanese the heavy siege and naval guns which they mounted there quickly placed the Russian fleet in the harbor hors du combat, with the sole exception of the battleship Sevastopol. This vessel escaped to the outer harbor, where it was attacked on several successive nights by the Japanese torpedo boats, and notwithstanding it remained stationary and the enemy had the advantage of knowing its exact position and of attacking in force, repeated efforts were necessary to put it out of action.

Heavy loss has been inflicted on both sides by contact mines, but these have nothing to do with torpedo boats. In his recent message to Congress President Roosevelt remarked that "not a Russian or a Japanese battleship has been sunk by a torpedo boat or by gun fire, while among the less protected ships, cruiser after cruiser has been destroyed whenever the hostile squadrons have gotten within range of one another's weapons." From this he concludes that "it is wise to build submarine torpedo boats, as under certain circumstances they might be very useful. But most of all we need to continue building our fleet of battleships, of ships so powerfully armed that they can inflict the maximum of damage upon our opponents, and so well protected that they can suffer a severe hammering in return without far impairment of their ability to fight and maneuver."

Secretary of the Navy Morton expressed the same opinion in his annual report, when he said:

"The lessons of the war in the Far East thus far are the same as those of the Spanish war with respect to the relative value and uses of battleships, torpedo boats and destroyers. Weight of metal, heavy guns and hard hitting whether at long or short range, still do the most effective work. The day of the battleship is not over, and the sphere of the lighter vessels, while important, is auxiliary only."

A battleship is a tremendously costly affair, and full of delicate machinery which easily gets out of order, but in the only two wars in which it has had a chance to show its worth it has fully justified the faith of its friends. Until naval architecture produces a new and more effective type it is likely to remain, as it is now, the basis of sea power.

Dr. Wiley's declaration that whisky has both medicinal and food qualities will be a big comfort to the people who have been experimenting with it for years without knowing whether it was food and medicine or just plain booze.

In Toledo, O., they are going to equip the street cars with cuspidors. A better plan would be to equip them with bouncers to throw out the people who think they can't get along without cuspidors.

The Eastern papers that are so exercised for fear Colorado is to be plunged into anarchy may rest themselves in peace. Colorado is about as well able to take care of itself as the next one.

A writer makes much of the fact that J. Pierpont Morgan shaves himself every morning. Plenty of other men do that, but somehow it never gets in the papers.

NEW AND NOVEL INVENTIONS

SKIRT-DRYING FRAME.

Among the minor conveniences recently patented and placed on the market is a skirt drying frame, by which the operation of getting the water out of a newly washed skirt is done in a much more satisfactory and tidier manner than has been done heretofore. Having been dried on the frame and in its proper shape, the garment is in much more satisfactory condition for ironing. The invention consists of a hanging rod with a hook fastened at one end for hanging the device and supplied at the other end with a head formed of one piece, to which the spreading arms for holding the skirt open are loosely pivoted, whereby each arm has an independent lateral movement that it may accommodate itself to the style of the garment hanging on the holder and support it in such manner that no fear need be had that it will dry out in shape.

A skirt to be dried is temporarily hung on a line or other support by the waistband and the spreading arms of the dryer folded up against the rod. The dryer is then inserted within the skirt until the hook can be hung on the line holding the skirt, which latter may then be disengaged from said line. The spreading arms either fall by gravity or are opened out by hand within the skirt, which will then be supported by the outstretched arms in such manner that air can get to all parts of the skirt, both within and without.

AN ASPHALT LAKE.

Source of Chief Supply Is in Venezuela Which Supplies Over 90 Per Cent Used.

Although the asphalt lakes of Trinidad and Venezuela furnish over 90 per cent of the asphalt used, small deposits are found in the limestone of Val de Travis, in Switzerland; Sessel, on the Rhone, Italy and America. The largest South American asphalt lake consists of a dark brownish deposit of a semi-fluid and semi-solid substance surrounded by banks from three to six feet high. In the center of this lake is a continual ejection of hot fluid asphalt accompanied by large bubbles of gas.

The dark skinned workmen excavate it in pieces weighing in the neighborhood of 25 pounds, sections 40 feet in area and about four feet deep being worked at one time. As quickly as freed from its surroundings it is placed in large tubs, resting upon small flat topped tramcars operated upon a narrow gauge road. The entire surface is constantly flowing, thus necessitating a continual relaying of the tracks.

The freshly excavated asphalt is conveyed to the shore, where the tubs are lifted by hydraulic power to an aerial tramway, by which it is conveyed to the large wharf situated on the Guanoco river, about five miles distant from the lake. Here it is weighed and dumped into the vessels which convey it to the foreign lands.

Upon its arrival at a factory it is heated until the water is expelled and the earthy material cast to the bottom of the large vats, and it is poured through a sieve into barrels, where it solidifies. It is then ready for commerce.—New York Tribune.

LESE MAJESTY AGAIN.

Henry James, on a recent visit, told at a dinner party in Cambridge a story that concerned the emperor of Germany.

"It was reported," said Mr. James, "that on a certain morning the emperor would drive out in brilliant uniform, attended by a bodyguard unusually large and splendid. A little boy came very early to the palace gates, and waited there for a long time to see the royal party.

"Finally, after three or four hours, the lad's patience failed him.

"'The booby isn't coming,' he said. 'I shall go.'

"Though the boy was only talking to himself, a police officer heard him, and seized him by the collar.

"'Who did you mean by booby, boy?' he thundered.

"'I meant,' the lad faltered, 'I meant—er—my friend, Fritz. He was to have met me here, and he hasn't turned up.'

"The officer let go his hold.

"'Be more careful in the future,' he said, 'and now, clear out.'

"The boy hastened across the roadway. At a safe distance he halted, assumed a derisive air, and, ere he took briskly to his heels again, shouted, with a strong emphasis on 'you':

"'Who did you mean by booby?'"

DEADLY PNEUMONIA.

In all its varieties, pneumonia is said to be infectious.

Twenty years ago even that much was unknown. Now it is an undisputed fact that a majority of cases of this most deadly of acute diseases are caused by a germ known as the pneumococcus, or, as it goes about in pairs, the diplococcus pneumoniæ. That there are other bacilli which cause pneumonia is also admitted. How many different varieties are in this class is a question, but several of them have been discovered beyond cavil.

"Pneumonia," says a distinguished authority, "is caused by weakening of the lungs due to congestion, allowing the brood of germs which were in the body before."

Investigations have apparently established the fact that all the micro-organisms which cause pneumonia enter through the respiratory organs. The bacilli are found in large quantities in the mouths and nose and breathing passages of persons in a normal condition of health. In fact, according to a Chicago physician who made many tests, pneumonia producing germs exist in the bodies of 45 out of every 100 persons, under average normal conditions.

When pneumonia develops in one lung, or both, as the result of a cold, or because of some other depressing fact, it means that the patient is in such a reduced state that the micro-organisms can take hold and multiply. It is evident, therefore, that maintaining the general health is the first lesson of prevention.—Pearson's Magazine.

ADVICE FROM KANSAS CITY.

In all cases where it is necessary for a streetcar conductor and a passenger to fight about a fare or anything else, the car should be stopped and the combatants should get off and settle the matter in the street. It is hardly fair to the passengers not involved in the controversy to be compelled to suffer the annoyance and the possible danger of a savage and angry row, keeping up for a distance of four or five blocks, whether the fare in dispute is a picayune or a half dollar. In some way the innocent public should be protected from the unpleasant situations which may be created by irascible conductors and unreasonable conductors.—Kansas City Star.

SAW LIGHT 25 MILES.

The reflected rays of the electric light located on the Diamond Shoal lightship off Cape Hatteras, are reported to have been visible for 25 miles at sea on the night of November 1. Captain Evjenth of the Norwegian steamship America reports having seen it that distance. At the time the atmosphere was clear and the night dark. The direction of the rays was toward the zenith. The United States government has been experimenting for some time at Cape Hatteras to determine the practicability of lighting the sea by reflecting the rays toward the zenith, thus far with good results.

STATE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS MAKES SEMI-ANNUAL APPORTIONMENT—MINIMUM TEACHERS SALARY.

According to the semi-annual apportionment of the state school funds, as completed by Mrs. Helen L. Grenfell, state superintendent of schools, El Paso county will receive $8,457.24 out of the total of $144,826.96. This is about the same amount that the county has been receiving from the state semi-annually. Of this amount district No. 11, which comprises the Colorado Springs schools, will receive about 70 per cent, the remainder being distributed among the other districts of the county.

In her biennial report, Mrs. Grenfell recommends that $50 be fixed as the minimum salary of a public school teacher, and that of four years' secondary education be required as qualification for a teacher.

The needs of the State Institute for the Deaf and Blind, in this city, as outlined in its report to Mrs. Grenfell by Superintendent Argo, are as follows:

The payment of the overdraft incurred in securing land; the erection of an administration building with additional room for libraries, dormitories, toilet, baths, etc.; first-class gymnasium, thoroughly equipped; completion of the basement and attic of the school building; a pipe organ for the blind; bakery and additional room for laundry purposes; additional space for pupils' dining room; barn and storage shed; completion of the grounds.

COURT DECIDES ON FURTHER HEARING IN INJUNCTION CASE AGAINST TELLER COUNTY TREASURER.

The hearing on the application for an injunction in the case of the Acorn Gold Mining company et al. vs. Duncan J. MacNeill, treasurer of Teller county, was continued yesterday afternoon for further hearing to January 23 by Judge Robert E. Lewis of the district court. The action is brought to restrain the defendant from issuing title to property sold for taxes for the year 1900.

The whole day yesterday was taken up by the arguments on the defendant's demurrer. Former Governor Charles S. Thomas is attorney for the defendant and Judge Horace G. Lunt and Karl C. Schuyler, of this city for the plaintiffs.

The demurrer sets up the contention that a misjoinder of plaintiffs and a non-joinder of defendants exists in the case. The contention is based upon the view that the plaintiffs, while mutually interested in the legal questions involved in the action, each separate mining company included among the plaintiffs having its own property, its own taxes to pay, and its own individual circumstances controlling the amount thereof. The non-joinder of the defendants is held to rest upon the failure to make the holders of the tax certificates on the properties involved parties defendant to the action.

MRS. W. H. BENNETT IS PRESENT

ANNUAL MEETING OF DEACONESS HOSPITAL BOARD — GUILD WILL BE ORGANIZED—MRS. A. C. PECK A VISITOR.

The annual meeting of the local board of Colorado Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church was held at the Deaconess hospital yesterday afternoon. Reports were made by the officers and chairman of the board.

The officers elected were: President, Mrs. William Lennox; first vice president, Mrs. J. M. Curtis; second vice president, Mrs. Giles B. Bosworth; third vice president, Mrs. Ames D. Craigue; corresponding secretary, Miss N. B. Hesson; recording secretary, Miss Putnam; treasurer, Mrs. H. L. Draper.

The appointment of committees will be made at the next meeting which will occur the first Wednesday in February.

Plans were made for the organization of a hospital guild to assist in looking after the welfare of the hospital general.

Mrs. A. C. Peck of Denver, conference president of the Colorado Woman's Home Missionary society of the Methodist church, was present and took part in the meeting.

The new superintendent of the sanatorium, Miss Woolverton, has just arrived from New Jersey and will take charge at once.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Interesting Program Enjoyed Yesterday Afternoon by the Art and Literature Department.

A regular meeting of the art and literary department of the Woman's club was held yesterday afternoon in Cheyenne hall.

The art paper by Mrs. Atlas Van Briggle was read by the chairman, Mrs. Edwin A. Sawyer. Although brief it was replete with interest as it gave some sidelights upon the phenomenal art career of her late husband and contained information of great value to the members of the club. Mrs. Sawyer supplemented the paper with remarks that were much appreciated.

Mrs. Robert Kerr led in the current topics discussion on the relation of the United States to Panama. The subject will be continued at the next meeting of the department, taking up the engineering project of Panama.

Springs Capitalists Form Copartnership to Use Fallen Timber on Forest Reserve Near Clyde.

Under the name of the Clyde Lumber company, L. C. Perkins, E. W. Giddings, Richard Clough and W. S. Morris filed articles of copartnership yesterday for the purpose of engaging in the lumber business along the Short Line railway. They have secured a large tract of timber land adjoining Clyde and will erect a sawmill and go into the business on a large scale. A large number of fallen trees will be used in the lumber making, the timber being obtained from several thousand acres in the Pike's Peak forest reserve around the Seven Lakes basin.

DIANA OF EASTERN EL PASO COUNTY ARRESTED ON CHARGE OF DRIVING NEIGHBOR'S CATTLE OFF RANGE.

Rigorous as a Roman tribune, the strong arm of the law has temporarily [illegible] pretty Mrs. Philander H. [illegible] Stevens, a blushing girl of [illegible] summers who has been a bride but a little more than a week, from the [illegible] of her husband.

"Oh, it is so awful," sobbed the child wife when she was locked in the county jail. She turned her deep blue eyes, wet with scalding tears, and looked appealingly at her young husband who stood without unable to give her any cheer or comfort.

"I drove those cattle away because they were bothering us and why should I be arrested and treated so, oh so horribly. It will break my mamma's heart, and oh, my poor, dear husband."

When Margaret Stevens, empress and pride of the plains in the east end of El Paso county, looked tenderly and gave her hand and heart to Philander H. Udell of Peyton on December 23, little did she dream that within a fortnight she would be confined in the county jail, separated from all that is dear to her, to await a hearing on the charge of unlawfully driving her neighbor's cattle away from their usual range. Unless bond of $1,000 can be given the young wife will remain in jail until January 10, the date set for her trial.

A ranchman from the Peyton district, named Kennedy, swore out a warrant for the arrest of Margaret Stevens several days ago, charging her with repeatedly driving his cattle off and away from their usual range." At that time he did not know that the girl was a bride but the effect of the warrant was just the same and Mrs. Udell was arrested at the Empire theater Tuesday night while enjoying a vaudeville performance in company with her husband and sister. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Harry Allward after a fruitless trip to Peyton, Ramah, and other points in the east end of the county in quest of the alleged offender. The bride of but a few days was placed in custody of the matron at the county jail that night and the groom has not yet succeeded in furnishing the necessary bond for her release.

Margaret Stevens is the 19-year-old daughter of Mrs. Hicks who owns and lives on a ranch near Peyton. Margaret has been accustomed to caring for the stock on the farm and has become an expert horsewoman. Her daring feats are said to be known among all ranchmen and stockmen in eastern Colorado.

CURED LUMBAGO.

A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903, "Having been troubled with Lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another, then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of sufferers."

DAY NURSERY ASSOCIATION IN PROSPEROUS CONDITION.

The regular monthly meeting of the Colorado Springs Day Nursery association was held yesterday morning at 10 o'clock in the nursery building on South Tejon street. The only business transacted was the auditing of accounts and the allowing of bills. Among the more than 20 children now being cared for in the home there is but one case of illness, and everything is in a prosperous condition.

HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES WILL FINISH NEW NOVEL IN THIS CITY—VISITING FRIENDS IN THE SPRINGS.

Hallie Erminie Rives, the noted author, will return to Colorado Springs next summer to finish the novel for which she is now gathering material. She said so last night. But four or five chapters of the new novel have been written and it will require about ten months, according to the author, to finish it. The scene will be laid in Colorado and California and it will be eminently fitting that the novel should be finished in Colorado Springs.

"It will be a modern love story, that's all," said Miss Rives last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David S. Neville, 512 East San Miguel street, where she is visiting for a few days. Miss Rives, since girlhood, has known Mrs. Neville and she stopped off on her way to New York from [illegible] to visit her for a few days.

"No, please don't apologize; newspaper men do not bore me. On the other hand, I always enjoy talking to them for they're always interesting."

With this neat little compliment Miss Rives courteously received a representative of the Gazette last night and talked interestingly for half an hour. She told of her work, her travels, her future plans, talked enthusiastically of the war in the far east, discussed Colorado scenery and climate and a score of other things.

"When I read of the capitulation of Port Arthur, I simply had to cry," said the author, "not because my sympathies are with the Russians, but because my heart went out to those poor suffering, defeated souls who fought, not for home or principal, but because they were goaded on by a heartless ruler who cares nothing for the sacrifices of human blood. Now that's the woman of it, isn't it, isn't it? A woman, you know, sees those things from the heart and a man sees them from the head.

"Oh, how I wish that women could have a voice in such affairs. I tell you if they did there would be no such thing as war," exclaimed Miss Rives with emphasis. "We might 'scrap' it out in a feline way but, when it came to bloodshed we would quit."

Miss Rives wore overhalls in Butte, Mont., that is, when going through one of the big copper mines there. She told it herself last night.

"But that is the only sensible way to go through a mine," she added, and most Colorado Springs women who have been through a big mine will agree with her. She said she wore out a nice pair of kid gloves, too, climbing up a big stope."

Miss Rives will go to the Cripple Creek district today over the Short Line. Tomorrow she will go through the Garden of the Gods and will visit the points of interest in Manitou. The day following she will go to the Cheyenne canons. What she will do after that she doesn't know but she says she will see all she can while here.

RUNAWAY HORSE CAUSED CONSIDERABLE EXCITEMENT

A broken harness, a frantic horse and a crowd of excited people caused considerable excitement on South Tejon street yesterday afternoon. The delivery horse of the Dern Tea and Coffee company was the disturbing element. One of the traces broke and the frightened horse took possession of Tejon street from Pike's Peak avenue to Rio Grande street. No damage resulted except to the harness.

VERDICT FOR DEFENDANT IN SUIT TO RECOVER $10,000 FROM STRATTON ESTATE. MAY APPEAL.

The jury in the county court, before which was tried the claim of J. B. Belford, of Denver, against the Stratton estate for $10,000, returned a verdict at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon in favor of the defendant after several hours of deliberation. It was intimated last night that Mr. Belford is already making preparation to appeal the case to a higher court.

The Belford claim was for attorney's fees, alleged to be due from the Stratton estate for services rendered the late Mr. Stratton, including opinions as to the legality of the incorporation of the Cripple Creek Deep Mining & Development company, the validity of the mortgage held by Mr. Stratton on the Brown Palace hotel, of Denver, work before the legislature of 1901 relative to mining property taxation, the recovery for Mr. Stratton of $15,000 paid for the Matchless mine, of Leadville, and three trips to Washington, D. C., in connection with the appropriation for the Colorado Springs public building and the selection of the Stratton site for the same.

CANADIAN POLITICAL LEADER THINKS THE FALL OF PT. ARTHUR WILL HAVE NO EFFECT ON WAR.

Sir Frederick W. Borden, minister of militia of Canada and the greatest man politically in Canada next to Sir Wilfred Laurier, arrived in Colorado Springs last evening with his wife and daughter, Miss Maude, and is a guest at the Antlers.

Sir Frederick is a large, well built man of nearly 70 years of age. With his smooth shaven face and grey sideburns he looks the part of a distinguished Englishman and his peculiar accent marks him a native of Nova Scotia. He is on a pleasure trip to the Rockies and will go as far as Canon City before returning to his home in Ottawa, Ont.

Sir Frederick, who is inclined to favor the Russians in the present war in the far east, said last night that he thought the defense of Port Arthur was one of the most gallant in the history of modern warfare. However, he thinks that Japan will soon have a chance to show her bravery in the defense of the same stronghold.

When asked what result he thought the fall of Port Arthur would have on the war, he replied, "No result whatever. If Russia should withdraw now she could no longer hope to be classed with the first-rate powers."

Bond and Lease on Squaw Mt. Property With a Good Record.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Reitou and associates who recently secured a bond and lease on the N. 10 L. S. property located in Squaw mountain, expect to start operations there in a very short time.

In the early history of the camp a goodly quantity of high-grade ore was shipped from this property when the operators lost the ore shoot and although they did a great deal of development work and others have done likewise since, then in order to find the lost ore body it still remains a mystery where it went to.

The new operators expect to commence operations at a depth of 80 feet when they will run laterals in several different directions and at the present time are very confident that they will find the old ore shoot with a few feet of work. With a systematic and thorough development of the property which is to be done as fast as possible, it is quite likely that the present operators will either encounter the lost ore shoot or open up new ore bodies, either of which will place the property on the shipping list again.

BESSIE OUTSIDE PRODUCING AREA

BUT OPERATORS THINK WELL ENOUGH OF THE PROPERTY TO SINK ANOTHER 170 FEET AND DRIVE DRIFTS.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Operations were started this morning on the Bessie property, located on Big Bull mountain, another property considered outside of the producing area. However, the Queen Rose Mining and Milling company, which owns this territory, is satisfied that it could open up a producer so started a number of miners to work today.

Quite recently an attempt was made to destroy the timbering in the shaft by fire and as soon as this can be retimbered the shaft will be lowered another 170 feet, giving it a total of 300 feet from surface.

The operators expect to drive drifts at every one-hundred-foot point besides following several veins opened up by former operators which never gave returns to warrant the shipping of the rock.

MARY CASHEN NOW PRODUCING WELL

INSKEEP AND ASSOCIATES HAVE SIX-FOOT VEIN WHICH IS RETURNING $30 TO $40 TO THE TON.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Lessee Inskeep and associates who are operating under lease the Mary Cashen property, located in the city of Victor, are opening up new ore bodies continually and working with very bright prospects for the future.

On the third and fourth levels the operators have been working in a six-foot vein which is returning values of from $30 to $40 to the ton, which includes both coarse rock and screenings. The lessees are maintaining a regular production which means considerable profit both for themselves and the Mary Cashen company.

BROWN BELIEVES HE HAS THE LOGAN FLAT VEIN

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Brown and associates, who are operating a lease on Sharp shaft No. 4, of the Gold Sovereign property on Bull hill, believe that they have opened up the extension of what is known as the Logan flat vein and they are now saving a little ore from their new find, fully believing that by further development a good body of ore will be encountered.

THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful it is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables.

Charcoal effectually clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges; they are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather, in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat. I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost, but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

LITTLE GIANT [illegible]

CONSTRUCTION TO BEGIN TODAY ON NEW REDUCTION PLANT IN PONY GULCH. ENTERPRISE WATCHED WITH INTEREST.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Construction work on the new cyanide mill that is to be erected on the Little Giant company's property, located in Pony gulch, southwest of this city, will be commenced tomorrow evening.

Quite a good deal of the material is now on the ground and as fast as the balance arrives it will be put in place as it is the desire of the company to have the mill in operation as soon as possible.

The Little Giant company's property, which comprises a large acreage of ground, is located some two miles from the producing area and if the new proposition proves a success it means the widening out of the producing section just that much so their operations will be watched with a great deal of interest.

COLORADO BOSS NO. 3 IS A PAYER

JOHN SHARPE HAS PROSPECTS OF CLEARING UP $200,000 BEFORE HIS LEASE EXPIRES. STORY OF A YEAR.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Such are the conditions developed in the Colorado Boss No. 3 of the Cripple Creek Consolidated company that operators feel warranted in predicting that John Sharpe, the operator, will retire at the conclusion of his lease with something like $200,000 profit.

Less than a year ago the Colorado Boss No. 3 was an unknown quality, the most it possessed being a location of promise, it lying against the Peggy, situated on the south slope of Gold hill, from which rich ore was being mined in a body of liberal proportions. Mr. Sharpe's net assets in coin of the realm is reported to have then been about $10,000, in possession of which sum a daring operator would almost as lief have a $10 note. Mr. Sharpe dovetailed his fortunes with those of R. P. Russell, another operator of achievements, and together they invested in a formidable machinery plant and sunk a 300-foot shaft. The avenue entered ore as it was calculated it would from investigation made through the Peggy workings, and has since been entering it with a frequency that gives rise to predictions concerning ultimate profits. To be precise: ore has been generally reached by laterals driven from the shaft.

Up to the time Mr. Russell withdrew they had developed three shoots in the Colorado Boss and the Morning Glory adjacent, upon which a lease is held, and had moved a large tonnage of superior grade. This was at a depth of 300 feet. The ore bodies invaded are of liberal length in both properties and range in width from eighteen inches to ten and even to twenty feet, the larger body lying within and paralleling the sidelines of the Colorado Boss. In the eighteen-inch body, considerable part of which is in the Morning Glory, values range from $40 to $140 in gold to the ton in a general way, while in the big shoot they vary from pay to the cost of a six-room house per ton. That there is many thousands of tons in sight may be learned by a visit to the workings.

But more remarkable conditions have been developed in the last two months. The shaft was during that period continued to the 500-foot point and levels advanced at 400 and 500-foot depths. In both excursions ore was entered and in bodies of formidable proportions, formidable because of the time that will be necessarily spent in extraction. The stoping ground at these depths is large and the values even higher than above, not a little of the ore being of a quality that gains settlement at the rate of from $200 to $400 in gold to the ton. Then there is a great deal of ordinary value. The Colorado Boss No. 3 gives promise of becoming one of the greatest little mines of the Cripple Creek district.

MARY ALICE

New Machinery Will Be Installed Immediately and Extensive Development Work Prosecuted.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Lessees who recently secured a two-years' lease on the Mary Alice claim, on Battle mountain, are making preparations for the installation of a large plant of machinery immediately.

The claim is the property of the Monument company and adjoins such well-known properties as the Portland and Stratton's Independence, so it is readily seen the opportunities that the operators have of opening up a shipping mine. A large amount of development work has been planned so these operations will be watched with considerable interest.

FINN CLAIM

W. P. Dunham, Who Has Bond and Lease on This Neighbor of the W. P. H. Plans Extensive Work.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—W. P. Dunham, manager of the Independence Consolidated property, who recently secured a bond and lease on the Finn claim, which adjoins the W. P. H. property on Ironclad hill, are making preparations to start the work of sinking a deep shaft for the purpose of thoroughly exploiting this territory and demonstrating whether there is enough ore to justify them in taking up the bond.

At all events it means the starting up of operations on another property in this well-known locality and it will not be a surprise to mining men if a second W. P. H. is encountered.

REV. CARLISLE P. B. MARTIN, L. L. D.

Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning, when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge, but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a medicine for throat or lung trouble."

COLUMBINE MILL

Alterations and Increase of Capacity Planned—Will Provide for Treatment of Custom Ores.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Alterations are being made in the Columbine mill, which is located on the Woods properties, near the city of Victor, which will not only result in a more economical treatment but means an increase in the capacity by the removal of the old processes and the installation of new ones, the capacity of the plant will be increased nearly 250 tons daily, which means a place for custom ores to be treated.

LESSEES HAVE ORE IN SIGHT IN THREE LEVELS

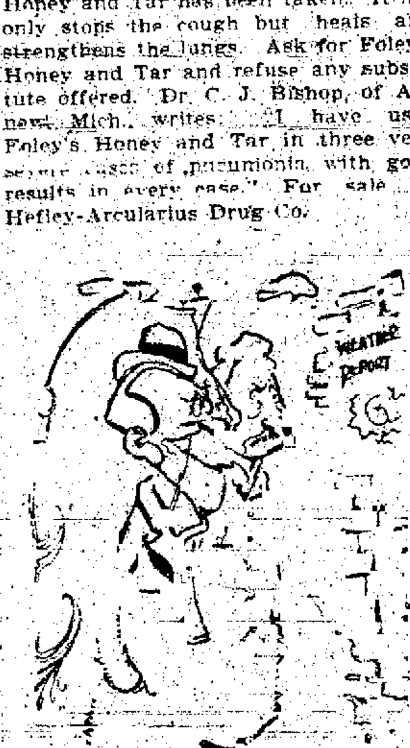

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 4.—Something like $3,000 has been invested by Manager H. M. Risley in machinery for the block of the Work estate under lease to Bert & Co. The plant is new and in the preliminary exercising given this work showed easy operation.

Bert & Co. begin on ore, the metalliferous material being in sight on three levels, the 100, 200 and 300-foot levels. It lies in bodies of fair dimensions and good quality. While engaged in extraction they will advance development and in this way hope to provide enough material to maintain continuous shipments throughout the life of the lease.

INTEREST IN STOCKS DECIDEDLY ABATED.—SENSITIVE FEELING CENTERS IN AMALGAMATED COPPER.

NEW YORK, Jan. 4.—There was a decided abatement of active interest in stocks and a resulting heavy and irregular tone in the day's dealings. To some extent this was undoubtedly due to the fear that the advances of yesterday were at too fast a pace for the health of the market. There was perceptible also a sensitiveness to the constant fluctuations in Amalgamated Copper, which continues to be regarded as a danger point by a large element among the operators since their experience of a few weeks ago.

The threatening utterances from the same source as at the time of the previous break in the stock keeps alive this spirit of apprehension. The stimulating effect of the Northern Securities decision had lost some of its force today and Northern Securities on the curb and all the stocks related to it on the exchange were reactionary.

It is taken for granted that plans are far advanced toward agreements and combinations to accomplish the purposes sought by the Northern Securities merger. But there is remaining force in the consideration that the terms fixed for the redistribution of the properties in the merger will end the control secured by the Union Pacific of the old Northern Pacific; thus in a measure relegating conditions to the same state as that existing before the colossal contest in the railway world in 1901.

As to the vague rumors of the form to be taken by the new combinations there was more caution in bearing operations upon them than was the case yesterday. There resulted an inclination to depend more upon the expected January investment demand for securities. This proved to be of moderate proportion and was met by offerings on the part of dealers who had bought stocks in anticipation of this demand.

There were sustaining points in the market, however, which held prices against any severe reaction. New York Central was notably strong and reports persisted of a large interest acquired in this property by Union Pacific and Standard Oil interests which would tend to harmonize its operation with other important railroad properties. The market lacked the buying for London account in the degree that it was felt yesterday. The offering of an Irish land purchase loan absorbed a large interest in the market and preparations for the Russian loan on the continent formed another deterrent influence. London suffered to some extent from pressure for Paris account, which was believed to be due to some forced liquidation on the part of the French holders of Russian securities.

The money market here continued extremely easy but the rate of the gold outgo was of some sentimental influence on the stock market. In addition to the week's exports to France and to South America it was intimated that gold is likely to be shipped from San Francisco to Japan on account of deposits at the New York subtreasury. The only occasion that can call for shipments to Japan at this time would be on account of New York subscriptions to the Japanese loan. It is interesting to recall that at the time of the last Japanese loan it was alleged that its flotation was facilitated by reason of disbursements in the world's markets of drafts on the deposits in European banks of the proceeds of the former Japanese loan. The calling home by Japan of its foreign deposits promise a contrary effect.

Railroad net earnings reported for November showed good increases, an important instance being Union Pacific. The reactionary tendency in the market, however, prevailed and the close was weak.

Bonds were easy. Total sales, par value, $4,295,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WHEAT AND FLOUR [illegible] DEMAND

DECREASE IN WORLD'S VISIBLE SUPPLY CAUSES STRONG FINISH IN DAY'S MARKET.—CORN SHOWS WEAKNESS.

CHICAGO, Jan. 4.—Liberal decrease in the world's visible supply was the chief reason for a strong finish in the wheat market today. May delivery closed at a net gain of ⅜@½c. Corn and oats are each off a shade. Provisions are down 17½c.

Influenced by higher cables and an improvement in cash demand for both wheat and flour, the wheat market opened firm. May was up ⅛ to ⅜@½c at 114½ to 114⅜@⅝. Commission houses were fair buyers. Many of yesterday's sellers reinstated their lines during the first few minutes of trading. At the time offerings were comparatively light. Among the reasons for the tenacity of the longs were continued small receipts northwest and bullishness of the Ohio crop report. As the day advanced, pit traders sold more freely but the market eased off considerably, May declining to 113⅝. During the last part of the session, however, sentiment again became bullish. Southwestern receipts continued to denote practical exhaustion of winter wheat. Kansas City and St. Louis today receiving only 91,000 bushels as compared with 331,000 bushels a year ago.

Final quotations on May were at 114⅝@¾.

Liberal receipts and a large increase in the world's visible supply made sentiment in the corn pit bearish. May opened unchanged to ⅛ lower at 44⅝ to ½, sold off to 44⅜ and closed at 44⅝@½.

Weakness of corn was the governing factor of the oats market.

May opened a shade to ⅛ to ¼ lower at 31⅛ to 31¼, rallied within the opening range, close being at 31¼.

Provisions were weak throughout the entire session. At the close all May products were off 17½c. May pork being at 12.82½, lard at 6.85@6.87½ and ribs at 6.62½.

A PIRATE AMONG PLANTS.

Among all the forms of vegetable life in the Mexican tropics the wild fig trees are the most remarkable. Some of them show such apparent intelligence in their readiness to meet emergencies that it is difficult to not credit them with powers of volition.

In the tropics, where the wild figs flourish, there is a constant struggle for life among numberless species of plants. Certain of the wild figs appear to have learned this and provide a fruit which is a favorite food for many birds, then an occasional seed is dropped by a bird where it finds lodgment in the axil of a palm found high in the air.

There the seed takes root and is nourished by the little accumulation of dust and vegetable matter. It sends forth an aerial root which creeps down the palm, sometimes coiling about the trunk on its way. When this slender cordlike rootlet reaches the ground it secures a foothold and becomes the future trunk of the fig tree.—[illegible] Magazine.

August Wilhelmj, father of the famous violinist of the same name, recently celebrated his 90th birthday. He is himself a good musician and still plays his violin every day. He was an intimate friend of Wagner, Liszt, Raff, Bulow, Rubinstein and other great composers. By profession he is a procurator and lawyer.

HIGH GRADE CADMIUM.

Considerable excitement has been occasioned among mining men by the discovery of cadmium ore near Coffin Top mountain, eight miles east of Lyons, Colorado. Cadmium ore is quoted in England at $1.80 per pound, and as the Colorado vein recently discovered averages 15 feet in width and carries eight per cent cadmium, the find is considered of great importance.

TEMPERANCE—The East Side W. C. T. U. will hold its regular business meeting with Mrs. Hamilton at 808 East Monument street, 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

OPENING DELAYED—The formal opening and dedication of the new Carnegie library will not be held until the latter part of February because of the delayed arrival of some of the plumbing material.

MUSICAL TREAT—The Ernest Gamble Recital company will give an entertainment in Perkins hall tomorrow evening under the auspices of Pike's Peak company No. 10, Uniform Rank, K. P. It will undoubtedly be one of the musical events of the season.

MANY CONVERTS—As a result of the revival meetings being held at the First Christian church by the Rev. C. S. Brooks, pastor, there have been 41 converts, making the total number since Mr. Brooks came to Colorado Springs, 63. The subject tonight will be "The Judgment."

CHURCH MEETING—The annual meeting of the First Congregational church will be held at the church this evening. Supper will be served for all members at 6:30 o'clock sharp, after which the business meeting for the hearing of reports and the election of officers will be held.

BOY INJURED—Elmer Norrish, while riding his wheel on Tejon street last evening, rode too near the car track and was knocked over by a street car, receiving a badly skinned face and arm. He was removed in the city ambulance to 1426 North Corona street, next door to his home, where Dr. Rothrock attended him. The lad's mother is ill and for this reason he was cared for at the neighbor's house.

NEW TRAIN ON THE MISSOURI PACIFIC.

December 1, the Missouri Pacific railroad placed in service a new train between Kansas City and Hot Springs, Ark., leaving Kansas City about noon and arriving Hot Springs the next morning at 9:40. Returning, trains leave Hot Springs about 7 p. m., arriving Kansas City 8 p. m. next day. This train is first class in every respect, carrying dining cars for all meals.
